Meetings and Conventions Terms and Conditions

In consideration for your organization, business or association ("Organization") designating and promoting Air Canada (including Air Canada Jazz) as the official Canadian airline for one of its meetings or conventions (the "Event"), Air Canada shall provide to your Organization the discounts to fares described in the Meetings and Conventions Travel Services Product Features web page (the "Discounts"), subject to the following Meetings and Conventions Travel Services Terms and Conditions ("Terms and Conditions"):

1. Official Canadian Airline. Your Organization shall designate Air Canada as the Official Canadian Airline for the Event. Your Organization shall promote and encourage travel on Air Canada wherever possible, e.g. pre- and post-tours, guest speakers' travel, committee travels and delegates travel. Your Organization shall inform the delegates to the Event that pursuant to these Terms and Conditions, Air Canada is offering special Discounts to Event delegates traveling to the Event ("Eligible Passengers"). In order to take advantage of those fares the applicable Promotion Code must be distributed and communicated by your Organization in all relevant Event publications and be recorded on the delegate's ticket by ticketing agencies/airlines.

2. Promotion Code. Your Organization shall not make public the applicable Promotion Code to any third parties other than the potential Eligible Passengers. The Promotion Code is the electronic identification number issued upon acceptance by your Organization's acceptance of these Terms and Conditions and Air Canada acceptance of your organization's request for Meetings and Conventions Travel Services pursuant to these Terms and Conditions, which allows Eligible Travelers to receive Discounts. If the Promotion Code is not entered or is entered incorrectly, the Discounts will not be applied to the booking.

3. Trademarks. Your Organization agrees to submit to Air Canada for prior approval a printed copy of all advertising and promotional material using Air Canada's name, logos or trademarks.

4. Minimum Eligible Passengers. There must be a minimum of ten (10) Eligible Passengers traveling with Air Canada to the same Event. The travelers shall all be members of your Organization and you shall be solely responsible for the Travelers.

5. Eligible Tickets means tickets sold on aircanada.com, where the Promotion Code has been applied at time of the ticket sale. For greater certainty, any tickets not purchased on aircanada.com for the purposes of travel to an Event will not qualify for any benefits provided by the Meetings and Conventions Product.

6. Discounts. The Discounts are applied to the fare at the time that the travel tickets with Air Canada are purchased. The Discounts and the fares are subject to all applicable taxes and surcharges.

7. Changes. The Discounts, the Meetings and Conventions Travel Services, these Terms and Conditions, Air Canada's fares, schedules and policies, and any and all equipment used in connection with the provision of the Meetings and Conventions Travel Services may be changed or terminated by Air Canada at any time and for any reason, in each case without notice or liability. Air Canada may terminate or reduce flights to any Event city at any time and for any reason, without notice or liability.

8. Agents. Should your Organization appoint a travel management company (the "Agent"), your organization shall, and shall cause the Agent to, abide by the applicable fare rules contained in Air Canada's tariffs. Failure to comply with the fare ticketing rules, and these terms and conditions will result in the issuance of debit memos.

9. Indemnification and Liability. Air Canada will not be liable for delays or cancellations caused by strikes, labor disputes, government actions, weather, or any cause beyond Air Canada's control. Your Organization, in agreeing to designate Air Canada the Official Canadian Airline of the Event in consideration for the Discounts, releases and waives by that fact any claims against Air Canada regarding cancellations of flights or any of the changes described in section 5 of these Terms and Conditions above, and shall indemnify and hold harmless Air Canada, its parent companies, directors, employees, agents, affiliates and subsidiaries from and against any claim, demand, loss, expenses (including, but not limited to, any reasonable attorneys' fees), damage and any other liability or prejudice that results from your Organization's or Your Agent's breach of or non-compliance with these Terms and Conditions or arising during or in connection with your Organization's, your Agent's or the Eligible Travelers' use of the Meetings and Conventions Travel Services or by their negligence or willful misconduct of your Organization, your Agent or the Eligible Travelers. This section shall survive indefinitely, regardless of any change or termination or these Terms and Conditions or the Meetings and Conventions Travel Services.

10. Independent Contractor. No agency, partnership or joint venture relationship is formed or exists between Air Canada and your Organization by virtue of the Meetings and Conventions Travel Services or these Terms and Conditions, and no third party beneficiary rights are created thereby.

11. Conditions of Carriage. Air Canada's Conditions of Carriage and Conditions of Contract for air transportation shall apply for any air transportation provided by Air Canada pursuant to the Meetings and Conventions Travel Services. Air Canada shall not be liable to your Organization and your Organization hereby releases and waives any claims against Air Canada respect to any flight cancellation, schedule change, or other failure to accommodate any Eligible Passenger in the provision of Meetings and Conventions Travel Services.

12. Force Majeure. Air Canada will not be responsible for delays in performance caused by acts of God or governmental authority, strikes or labour disputes, or any other cause beyond the reasonable control of Air Canada.

13. These terms and conditions are in addition to any other terms and conditions included on this web site.
